

VERAGUA TO HEAD THE COMMITTEE.

IMPORTANT WORK FOR CO-LUMBUS' DESCENDANT.

He Will Have Charge of the Negotiations Looking Toward Commercial Treaties with Germany, Austria and Italy—Senator Lodge Says Low Wages Are Coming.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Word comes from Madrid that the Duke of Veragua has been appointed president of the Spanish senatorial committee on treaties and commerce with Germany, Austria and Italy.

SENATOR LODGE ON TARIFF.

Predicts That the Present Measure Will Lower Wages in America.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In the senate yesterday the bill introduced by Senator Peffer for the improvement of public roads (a bill in the direction of the Coxey movement) was reported back adversely by Senator Kyle.

Mr. Quay introduced a resolution (objection to the consideration of which was made by Senator Cockrell) that the senate should hold a session Saturday, April 21, from 1 o'clock to hear a committee of workmen in opposition to the tariff bill.

The Wolcott resolution for the coinage of Mexican dollars at United States mints was laid before the senate. The resolution was agreed to.

Senator Aldrich announced that senators on the republican side were anxious to proceed with the consideration of the tariff bill in an orderly manner, which would not interfere with the comfort of senators. "I would suggest," he went on, "that we are willing, for a week at least, that the senate shall meet at 12 o'clock each day and the tariff bill shall be taken up at 1 o'clock and continue before the senate until 5 o'clock each day without dilatory motions."

It was agreed that the proposition should prevail until Monday next.

The tariff bill was taken up and Mr. Lodge spoke in opposition to it, saying in part:

"If the American manufacturer does not make money it is quite certain that he will not employ labor, and therefore the workmen will not make money either. Our manufacturers believe that under free trade they must either go out of business or reduce labor costs. They naturally do not care to do the former, for that is ruin, and they are very unwilling to try the latter, because reducing labor costs means lowering wages, which means in turn vast industrial disturbances, and that is ruin, too, or something very near it."

Turning to agriculture, he inquired: "Has English agriculture been benefited by free trade, as Cobden and others of his school predicted? It is a matter of public notoriety that the record of agriculture in England of late years is little but a record of disaster."

There was nothing left then of the boasted superiority of free trade over protection, he declared, but the promise to increase trade, and to refute this claim he gave the percentage of increase, by decades, of England and the United States, which showed that in the decade 1870-1880 the trade of the United States under protection had increased nearly four times as much as that of England, while from 1880 to 1890 it was more than seven times greater.

Senator Lodge touched lightly upon the question of reciprocity and showed the advantages which had flowed from it and the growth of trade which followed the adoption of reciprocity treaties.

In conclusion he said: "To maintain high rates of wages and to give, if possible, the fullest scope for their increase I believe to be essential, because I believe good wages absolutely vital to the stability of our institutions and of our society. Protection in its widest aspect is something far more than a mere question of schedules or of national bookkeeping. It is an effort to defend by legislation our standards of living, just as the exclusion of the Chinese and of contract labor was. The reductions of wages thus far made are trifling to what will come if this becomes a law and men seek to adjust themselves to the new conditions."

After some unimportant business the senate went into executive session and adjourned.

BRYAN ATTACKS THE EX-SPEAKER.

Speech of Mr. Reed at Boston Criticized by the Nebraska Member.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—After some minor business yesterday the house went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. The fight against the appropriation of $196,314 for special mail facilities on the trunk line from Springfield, Mass., via New York and Washington, to Atlanta and New Orleans, was then begun. Mr. Bryan (Neb.) took the floor, and, ostensibly speaking to the amendment, made a reply to the recently published letter of Mr. Reed, addressed to Mr. C. L. B. Vaughan of Hutchinson, Kan., in which he criticized Mr. Bryan for using in his speech made in Denver an extract from one of his (Reed's) Boston tariff speeches. Mr. Bryan characterized the speech as an appeal to sectionalism; an appeal to the selfishness of New England. While Mr. Reed told the west that all the states were equally interested in the preservation of the protective tariff he told Massachusetts that she was most interested. This was a remarkable utterance from the leader of the republican party, the leader not only in the house but in the country. He wanted the country to know that Mr. Reed, while he stood up for protection for the whole country in congress, in Massachusetts held up the "ignorance of the south" and "rapacious west," and pleaded for special privileges for New England.

When Bryan had finished Mr. Reed arose. The incident was of little consequence, he said. No one here would have placed a wrong construction on his speech. If, as a result of the passage of the Wilson bill, the eastern manufacturers were destroyed, when rebuilt they would move nearer the source of production. There was no doubt the course of empire would continue to move westward; but it should move westward without carrying in its wake the ruin of the consumer as well as the manufacturer. The republican doctrine of protection believed in no classes as did the doctrine of the Wilson bill. It believed that the American people should do the work.

Without acting on the amendment the committee rose and the house adjourned.

MAY DEFEAT THE CHINESE TREATY.

Its Opponents Now Hope to Prevent Ratification By the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The opponents of the ratification of the Chinese treaty feel encouraged since the executive session on Saturday. The friends of the treaty had claimed that it would be ratified without much objection. The fact that a two-thirds vote is necessary to secure the ratification of treaty is favorable to those who oppose an agreement. They will first try to defeat the treaty; and if they fail in that effort will then seek to have it amended. The advocates of the treaty will probably oppose the latter alternative almost as strenuously as they will the former, as they fear that if it is amended it will not be acceptable to the Chinese government.

Meyer's Coinage and Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The coinage and bond bill recently introduced by Representative Meyer of New Jersey is bringing out much discussion between the silver and anti-silver elements of the house. Mr. Meyer's bill follows closely the President's suggestion in the veto message. It provides for the coinage of the seigniorage and gives the secretary of the treasury power to issue 3 per cent bonds of small denominations in substitution for the old bonds.

Additional Tariff Amendments.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The senate committee on finance has agreed to report favorably the amendments to the tariff bill introduced on the 3d inst. by Senator Vest and the amendments were afterward reported to the senate. Some unimportant alterations were made in the amendments. They were adopted by a strict party vote.

Less Pay for Lawmakers.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Representative Holman of Indiana is in hearty sympathy with the resolution to reduce the salaries of representatives and senators. Said Mr. Holman to-day: "It ought to pass. A cut of 20 per cent would be sufficient. Such a resolution would certainly pass the house."

Behring Sea Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President Cleveland has issued a Behring sea proclamation warning persons against violating the recent seal fisheries act of congress.

MYSTERY IN POLLARD CASE.

Judge, Counsel and One of the Jurymen Confer Over a Letter.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Breckinridge-Pollard jury listened yesterday to Phil Thompson, counsel for the defendant, who told what the defense thinks of Miss Pollard. It was a savage blazing picture Thompson painted. The plaintiff, who had an inkling of what Thompson intended to say, left the room immediately her counsel, Mr. Carlisle, finished his speech.

When Judge Bradley opened the court he held a letter in his hand in which he seemed deeply interested, called up to his desk three of the counsel, Messrs. Carlisle, Wilson and Butterworth exhibited the letter to them and the four put their heads together over the document for ten minutes. Then one of the jurors was called up and the consultation was prolonged for ten minutes before Mr. Carlisle resumed his argument. It is thought that the cause of the conference was one of the anonymous letters which have poured in by the bushel on all the court officers and every person interested in the trial. The judge receives dozens of them every day, making all sorts of suggestions.

Found in the Ruins.

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—The body of Assistant Chief Janssen, who lost his life with eight of his companions in the Davidson theater fire, has been found in the ruins.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, while the firemen were engaged in the search for Third Assistant Chief Janssen's body in the ruins of the Davidson theater there was a terrible crash occasioned by the falling of a large amount of debris from the gallery to the balcony. Several firemen were carried by the crash, one of them, Truckman Lancaster of company No. 2, being seriously injured.

GREAT DRIFTS HIDE NEW YORK STATE.

VESSELS WRECKED AND ALL TRAINS STALLED.

Wind Was Blowing Sixty-Nine Miles an Hour at Noon, and the Snow Lay Thirty Inches Deep on the Level—Crops Are Injured by the Cold.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A storm of great severity is raging along the Atlantic coast. The wind is blowing sixty-nine miles an hour at 1 p. m. and the snow and sleet are driving furiously.

Many wrecks are feared. One vessel has gone to pieces on the shore of Long Branch and a tug, "Ocean," sunk at Brooklyn dock.

The snow is thirty inches deep on the level.

WARSAW, N. Y., April 11.—Everything is blocked by the storm which has been raging since last night.

ELMIRA, April 11.—No trains are running this afternoon and but few got through this morning. The eastern half of the state is snowed under.

BAD WEATHER HURTS CROPS.

Considerable Damage from Frost Reported Much Wheat Killed.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The condition of winter wheat April 1, as reported by the statistician of the department of agriculture, averages 86.7 per cent for the entire country, last year the average being 77.4. In 1892 it was 81.2 and 96.9 for the year 1891. The corresponding average for rye is 94.4 per cent. The average of wheat for the principal states is as follows:

Kentucky, 83 per cent; Ohio, 90; Michigan, 83; Indiana, 90; Illinois, 87; Missouri, 88; Kansas, 72; Nebraska, 85; Iowa, 87. Little damage is reported from the Hessian fly, and that only in sections of Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. The weather from seeding time until recent cold waves swept over the country, except in cases hereafter noted, has been favorable to the growth of the plant.

In the eastern, northern, and northwestern states snow covering has afforded protection, in addition to that of a mild temperature. The injury to the crops from the recent cold spell is considerable, if not great, but the comments of the correspondents would seem to indicate that the full extent of the damage was not fully determinable. In the eastern and northern states the damage was comparatively slight. In the south Atlantic and southern states the damage is marked and decided, with perhaps the exception of Texas. While in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Kentucky the injury from frost is considerable, the extent of some is contingent upon future meteorological conditions.

In the states of Kansas, Nebraska and California the impaired condition of the crops has not resulted so much from the frost as from cold. Rain is much needed in those as well as other important wheat-producing states.

ILLINOIS CROPS MUCH DAMAGED.

Unseasonable Weather Has a Serious Effect on Growing Grain.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 11.—The weekly crop bulletin issued by the Illinois Weather Service for the week ending April 10 10 says:

"The weather conditions from March 1 to 24 were unusually favorable for farm work, and considerable progress was made in planting and seeding. Oats seeding had been almost completed and in many sections were up and looking well. Wheat also was reported in fine condition up to that time, having come through the winter in good shape. Crops were never in a more promising condition, until the severe cold wave of the 25th and 26th which caused serious damage to all growing crops. The wheat has been damaged, but to what extent it is too early to tell. Warmer weather will greatly benefit all vegetation. Rye is reported in good condition. Potatoes were badly frozen in the ground and will have to be replanted. Garden truck was all killed. Early fruit, apples, peaches, pears and plums are reported killed and in some sections many of the young fruit trees are ruined. Late apples are thought to be safe. Smaller fruits, it is now thought, will make a full crop. From 40 to 90 per cent of the younger clover is reported killed. Pastures and meadows have made little growth owing to cool weather and lack of rain."

Storm in Minnesota Beneficial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 11.—Director Beals of the federal agricultural department yesterday issued his weekly report on the crop outlook in this state:

"The weather conditions during the week ending Monday night on the whole were quite favorable throughout the state for farm work until Saturday, when a severe snow-storm began in the northern portion, which gradually spread throughout the southern sections by Sunday morning. This storm, while damaging to some extent winter wheat, rye, and a portion of the March sown spring wheat, will, with the further exception of delaying progress in seeding for a few days, have a beneficial effect upon the general results. A few days of warm, drying weather is now needed to put the soil in good working condition."

CADWALLADER CASE BEFORE THE COURT.

DAPPER BANK PRESIDENT NOW ON TRIAL.

Jury Likely To Be Summoned To Pass Upon His Guilt or Innocence—Until He Got in Trouble in West Superior There Was No Stain on His Character.

MADISON, April 11.—The trial of the Cadwallader case opens in the United States court this afternoon. It is expected to continue through three or four days. A jury will hear it. The defendant, ex-President A. A. Cadwallader, of the Superior National Bank, is charged with the wilful misapplication of the funds of the bank and various other offenses of a kindred character. He was indicted, released on $10,000 bail, fled to Brazil, recaptured, returned and placed in jail, where he has since been. He is a married man, highly intelligent, cultured and there is nothing about his personal appearance, manner or words to suggest the possibility of crime. Since he has been incarcerated one of his young children has been put to rest in the cemetery. Mr. Cadwallader is about forty years of age and his reputation was stainless till he became involved in the trouble at Superior.

SPOONER DREW THE ORDER.

He Tells the Congressional Committee How the Injunction Was Drawn.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 11.—Ex-Senator John C. Spooner was the principal witness before the Bochner investigating committee, which concluded its work here yesterday. He admitted that he drew the famous strike order; that he dictated most of the provisions in the petition on which the order was granted, and he contended that as a merely legal matter the injunction was perfectly proper. He did not put on it the harsh construction which is put on it by the labor leaders. From the testimony which has been introduced it is not probable Judge Jenkins will be impeached, but the committee may recommend that congress pass laws which will prevent a recurrence of the issuance of injunctions of the character of the one issued in this case.

Grand Master S. E. Wilkinson of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was the first witness called. He took his seat facing the chairman, and, after being sworn, deposed that he lived at Galesburg, Ill., and had been the chief executive of the brotherhood for ten years. The witness declared that a strike could be declared by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen only when a majority of the members so voted and when the action was approved by the chief executive. The brotherhood had not contemplated calling a strike among the Northern Pacific employees at the time of the issuance of the writs by Judge Jenkins.

"No strike was contemplated," said Mr. Wilkinson. "The men believed the difficulty could be settled without such action."

In response to inquiries made by Mr. Terry, the witness said the railway men regarded their orders as most beneficial. "Without them they would be little better than serfs," he said.

John E. Wilson of Chicago, grand master of the Switchmen's Mutual Benefit association, then took Mr. Wilkinson's place in the witness chair. He represents 20,000 switchmen. His association was made defendant in the injunction suit. As stated by the representative of the trainmen, Mr. Wilson said that he understood that the injunction prevented the men from leaving the employ of the company.

When Frank W. Arnold, grand secretary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, took the stand the committee began an examination for the purpose of finding out the character of the men belonging to the organization, and their conduct during strikes. Mr. Curtis thereupon endeavored to show that violence and destruction of property accompanied all strikes, and with the encouragement of the chief executives of the unions. Mr. Arnold held that all the damage resulted from the employment of inexperienced men during the lockout. The committee asked questions showing that it believed railway men are of necessity of more than average intelligence and of steady habits. Arnold's answers corroborated their previous impressions.

Congressman Stone made a significant statement. "Of course," said he, "while a law can not be passed compelling a man to work against his will or for wages not acceptable to him, don't you think a law could be passed providing for the arbitration of such disagreement?"

Grand Chief Clark of the conductors' organization, who was then on the stand, replied that compulsory arbitration before a fair board would be acceptable to labor.

D. G. Ramsay, Grand Chief of the Order of Telegraphers, testified on the same lines, and then ex-Senator Spooner was called.

In reply to a question by Mr. Terry Mr. Spooner made the following explanation:

"About Dec. 12 I was asked by the receivers to come to St. Paul. There I met Mr. Oakes and General Manager Kendrick, and they informed me that a notice of reduction of wages and a change of schedule had been given. Mr. Kendrick said the old schedules were complicated and unjust, and he believed from reports of their secret service agents and from the statements of the men that a majority of the employees would acknowledge the necessity of a reduction, but that there were a large number of men who were dissatisfied and who threatened to disable the engine and cars and also threatened to interfere with the men who wished to continue in the service of the road. He said there were many men who were loyal to the road, but who were afraid they would be molested if a strike was ordered. I asked Mr. Kendrick if he had brought that condition of affairs to the attention of the receivers. He said he had not and I advised him to do so. He prepared a statement showing it and sent it to the receivers. I left that night for Madison and did not hear from the receivers until Saturday, when I received a message from Mr. Payne calling me to Milwaukee at once. I came to Milwaukee, found Mr. Payne and Mr. Oakes, and we conferred in regard to the condition of affairs on the road and I advised applying to the court for the injunction. I went to Mr. Miller's office and I dictated some of the petition until the changes in the schedules were put in and I believe these were read. I remember I objected to one rule which refused the right of a man who was discharged for intoxication to appeal his case. When it came to the preparation of the prayer I dictated the greater part of it and a part of the order. When it came to the part which is objected to I called for the 27th Federal Reporter and quoted the decision of Judge Pardee, and the order is almost the same language. After drawing the order Sunday afternoon I went to Judge Jenkins' room at 9:30 the next morning and was explaining the scope of the injunction to him. While doing so Mr. Payne and Mr. Miller came in with the petition and the order. I said to the judge that there was nothing in the prayer to which objection could be taken except the part which was objected to, and that, I said, was supported by authority. He took it under advisement."

Mr. Stone asked what Mr. Spooner thought of congressional investigations of Federal judges, such as the present one, and Mr. Spooner replied: "I think it would destroy the independence of the judiciary. It would be establishing new courts of review. If a committee of congress has evidence to make a prima facie case against a judge it is right for it to investigate him, but not to review a merely legal question."

Receiver Thomas F. Oakes and Attorney W. J. Curtis were examined, but their testimony was unimportant.

General Manager Kendrick was called and said he had information that there was an element among the men which threatened a strike, but that he had nothing from the men themselves on the subject. It would not have been possible for the employees Jan. 1 to quit without hindering the operation of the road. He obtained the injunction at the time because he thought it was a good time to secure it. At the conclusion of Mr. Kendrick's testimony, the committee having no more witnesses to examine, Chairman Bochner announced an adjournment. The committee will leave for Washington to-day. It will review the evidence at its leisure.

MAY SUSPEND ALL WORK.

Delegates to Mine Workers' Convention Favor Such a Movement.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 11.—The national convention of the United Mine Workers met yesterday, with the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Washington, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee represented. An incident occurred which shows that a national suspension of work will be ordered. Just before the convention adjourned for the day a delegate secured the floor and suggested that all who had come instructed to favor such a movement be requested to hold up their right hands. The words were no more than spoken until every hand in the house went up. The demonstration that followed was significant and the suspension seems to be virtually settled.

Banker Mead Murder Again Revived.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 11.—Henry Cripps of Nepeuskun was brought to this city yesterday accused of the murder of Banker Mead of Waupaca, which occurred twelve years ago. A Chicago woman, Mrs. Orrie Jennings, told Detective Rehan of Chicago that Cripps had confessed the deed to her and that he had hidden the booty upon his farm.

Senator Wolcott Burned in Effigy.

ENID, Ok., April 11.—Copies of Senator Wolcott's speech on the Rock Island state bill were received in Enid last night, and it so enraged the citizens that at midnight a large crowd collected and burned the Colorado senator in effigy and denounced him as a railroad hireling. Leading citizens deplore the act.

Under Fallen Walls.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The two-story frame dwelling house, 140 McKibben street, Williamsburg, which had been raised and set upon flimsy brick walls so as to make it a three-story building, collapsed last night and ten persons were buried in the ruins. Two persons were killed and eight injured.

Rich Gold in La Plata Mountains.

DENVER, Colo., April 11.—Local specials from Durango say the region is in feverish excitement over unparalleled gold findings in La Plata mountains.

State Capitol Fire.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 11.—Fire broke out yesterday in the state capitol building. Urgent alarms were sent in, as the entire structure might be destroyed. The structure is built of brick and contains, besides valuable state archives, a state library of 50,000 volumes.

The weight of a million sovereigns, newly minted, is ten tons, fourteen cwt., fifteen lbs. A million pounds worth of fresh coined silver pieces of British money weighs over 151 tons.

AGED WOMAN FELL WHILE FAST ASLEEP.

MRS. MITCHELL WALKS OUT OF A WINDOW.

Arising in the Night She Reaches the End of the Hallway and Pitches to Earth—Insurgent Forces Under Gen. De Mello Occupy Rio Grande City.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Mrs. Catherine Mitchell, fifty-two years of age, walked out of a second story window in her sleep last night and was killed. Insurgents Capture Rio Grande.

MONTEVIDEO, April 11.—The insurgent forces under De Mello have occupied Rio Grande City. General Slocum Is Worse.

NEW YORK, April 11.—General Slocum is worse, having weakened since night.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

Big Men in Illinois Politics in Consultation at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Republicans from all parts of the state gathered at the Grand Pacific yesterday to celebrate the biennial "love feast" of the party and to participate to a certain extent in the work of the regular meeting of the state central committee. A state treasurer and a superintendent of instruction are the only state officers to be chosen at the coming election. The great importance of the election lies in the fact that the state legislature to be elected will choose a United States senator to succeed Shelby M. Cullom, whose term will expire next year. There are two avowed candidates for the republican nomination—Senator Cullom and ex-Congressman W. E. Mason. Both candidates have headquarters at the Grand Pacific.

It was 10:30 o'clock when the central committee went into executive session in parlors 45, at the same time republican editors were in conference in another room and the league of republican clubs was in one of the parlors discussing the forthcoming convention. All members of the state central committee were reported to be present.

At 12:10 o'clock the love feast was called to order by Chairman James H. Clark, who said the meeting had been called to counsel together for the best interests of the party. He then announced the program of speakers and introduced Senator Cullom. The senator was loudly cheered when he arose to make his address.

Ex-Gov. Joseph W. Fifer was the next speaker and he was applauded to the echo. He made way for the other speakers, W. E. Mason being the one the crowd most wanted to hear.

It was decided by the committee that the republicans should hold their convention at Springfield on the 25th day of July. This was determined by the state central committee. The committee further decreed that in all legislative districts where the republicans cast two-fifths of the vote two republican candidates should be nominated for the house of representatives. The ratio of representation in the convention was fixed at 300 or a fraction thereof. The call for the convention, which will issue in due time, will not contain any reference to a nomination for the United States senate. The republicans will take the position that this matter is in the province of the state convention itself. The county conventions can instruct their delegates, if they so elect, to vote for any given candidate or to vote against the proposition of nominating a candidate. The state committee did not take any action on the petition of the women who appeared at the morning meeting of the committee asking the nomination of a woman as one of the trustees of the state university at Champaign. The senatorial and congressional committees were ordered to refrain from making nominations until after the state convention. This is owing to the fact that the republicans hope to have the constitutionality of the apportionment bills passed upon by that time.

Spring Grains Damaged in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 11.—The first report of the Iowa crop and weather service was issued yesterday and among other things says:

"The last week in March brought wintry blizzards and temperature close to zero in all parts of the state. Winter wheat suffered quite severely, but as the acreage of that crop is quite small the loss will not be appreciable. All early and tender varieties of orchard fruits suffered severely, especially in the southern districts. The last week was generally favorable for farm work and good progress has been made in seeding and plowing for corn. The season is about a week earlier than the average and the general crop outlook is much better than it was in the latter half of April in the last two years."

State Capitol Fire.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 11.—Fire broke out yesterday in the state capitol building. Urgent alarms were sent in, as the entire structure might be destroyed. The structure is built of brick and contains, besides valuable state archives, a state library of 50,000 volumes.

The weight of a million sovereigns, newly minted, is ten tons, fourteen cwt., fifteen lbs. A million pounds worth of fresh coined silver pieces of British money weighs over 151 tons.

SUITS FOR WEE ONES ARE VERY PRETTY.

STYLISH PATTERNS OFFERED BY THE GAZETTE.

Details of the Proposition by Which the Most Fashionable Novelties of the Season Are Offered to Janesville People Free of Charge—Tell Your Friends.

Especially for little ones is the "Zara" which The Gazette now adds to its pattern offer.

Practical as well as very becoming is this little dress, which is an excellent model for all seasonable goods. It has a full straight skirt, and the full "baby" waist is kept in shape by a fitted lining. The bertha gives it a very stylish appearance, but can be omitted, if desired and the simple yoke waist will be very becoming. If washable materials be selected the skirt can be made separate and buttoned to the lining, and a tape run through the bottom of the outer part of the waist will give it a blouse effect and make it easy to laundry.

Convenience and neatness are features of the ever popular sailor suit, and for school, mountain, or seaside wear there is nothing that can compare with it. The Maurice is a pretty pattern. Serge and flannel are most frequently used for it, but it can be made of any washable materials, as galatea, cotton chevrot, duck or gingham, trimmed with white or colored braid. A very practical idea for the woolen suits is to have the vest, or chemisette made of white or colored duck or linen, trimmed with narrow white braid, or with stars, or crossed anchors embroidered on it, as it then can be easily laundered.

Cut the waist lengthwise of the goods and without a seam down the middle of the front. Cut the sleeve puffs either bias or straight; the sleeves girl. Miss Maggie Stafford of Edgerton, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Sweeney. Josie Nichols returned to school to the sisters' convent in Janesville. Miss Minnie Hayward began teaching in the Eagle district; Miss McGuire in the Stevens; and Miss Kennedy in the Hubbel district Monday morning. Misses Hattie and Anerette Lay attended teachers' meeting in Footville last Saturday. Messrs. Riley and O'Neil sold their '93 tobacco for 5 cents, assorted to Wulf at Janesville. The dance at the Eagle creamery was not as largely attended as it might have been, but a very nice time was enjoyed by all. Claude Hendrick is attending school in Evansville again, driving overland night and morning. Dan Rogers gave a very pleasant party last Thursday night.

MILTON MEN BAKED PANCAKES. Novel Social At The Seventh Day Baptist Church.

MILTON, April 10.—The social at the Seventh Day Baptist church Thursday evening was well patronized. The menu of the supper served by the gentlemen from 6 to 8, was rather abbreviated but the "wheels" browned by the chief, "Professor De-Griddle Cake-Boss" were excellent. The literary program was rather elongated in some parts, the special feature being the music by an orchestra composed by Messrs. Jas. A. Coon, F. C. Dunn and Hemphill, violin; W. B. Maxson, flute; George Sayre, guitar; Byron Coon, organ. The "boys" all did well. Ex-Mayor Flag, of Edgerton, shook hands with Milton acquaintances one day last week. Miss Dana Crumb, of Harvard Ill., visited Miss Eda L. Crandall last Thursday and Friday. Dr. Fenn Rice, of Hebron, was a visitor in the village Friday. Mrs. Arthur Clarke and Miss Leo Clarke, of Edgerton, were the guests of Mrs. W. P. Clarke last Friday. Rev. J. T. Davis, who is a student in the theological department of the university of Chicago, spent some days with Milton acquaintances recently. He was for a time a student of Milton college. Postmaster Morris was in mourning Saturday over the loss of a fine Jersey heifer. John Davy and wife, of Pomeroy, Iowa, are visiting Milton relatives. Mrs. Davy has not yet fully recovered from the injuries which she received during the cyclone at that place last summer. Robert Skinner, who has been enjoying a vacation with friends in Iowa, for two or three weeks, resumed his position as night operator at this station Saturday night, Mr. Bartlett returning to Albany. Clem W. Crumb is making some improvements on his house. Rev. E. M. Dunn returned from his Nebraska trip last week. Remember the Men's Oratorical Contest tonight at the M. E. church. The B. L. and O. Festival of the Kings Daughters, next month will be a world beater. Rumors are afloat that a new weekly paper will be published here at early date. The "early spring" prophets have joined the ground hog and holed up. Billiard and pool tables must pay a license in this town hereafter. Mr. and Mrs. James Noble, of Albion, visited at Ezra Crandall's Saturday and Sunday. The remains of Mrs. Pardon Palmer, sister of Mrs. E. Palmiter, of this village, who died at Edmonds, Kan., on the 2nd inst., were brought here for burial Saturday. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the house of Mr. Palmiter, Rev. Richard Miller officiating. Last Monday's storm was like the Wilson bill, a regular lamb killer. Al Gifford has been building an addition to his house. Justice Gifford sent a pair of tramps to the county jail Monday morning.

COOKSVILLE TO HAVE ORATORY. Demorest Medal Contest is Probably In The Near Future.

COOKSVILLE, April 10.—It is rumored that a silver medal contest will be held here during the spring months. Thomas Young had the misfortune to lose eleven sheep by dogs last week. O. K. Wallin lost seven and other neighbors had theirs worried. The play which has been in rehearsal so long will be given Friday evening, April 20. The Chinaman is immense. Come out and see him, only twenty cents admission. People are wishing for a tobacco buyer. There is talk of a new store being built here, also a blacksmith shop. Miss Mary Bell from Brooklyn is visiting her cousin, Miss Grace Spear, this week. Communion service last Sunday. Three new members joined the church. The spring term of school began last Monday with Miss Herrick as teacher. Alpheus Whaley is building a new fence in front of his residence. The new meat market is now in running order and you can get the best kinds of meat and poultry. A day to be remembered was last Monday, a winter day for an April one. snow and sleet freezing on as fast as it came until the trees were ice trees. Not much farming was done that day, but the chairs were well held down in the village stores.

Brief Notes From Bradford. BRADFORD, April 10.—Rev. F. N. Dexter, of Clinton, will preach at the Bradford church Sunday afternoon, April 15, at 3 o'clock. All are invited to attend. The B. P. C. will meet Saturday eve April 14. An interesting program is being prepared. J. B. Smith who has been ill for the past week is improving. Miss Frankie Woodman, of Clinton is visiting at W. C. Dutches'. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Locke attended the wedding of a friend last Thursday.

Wanted—Stock to Pasture. I will be ready to receive horses and cattle for pasture May 1st. Address C. B. Inman, 104 Locust street, city, or Thomas Eadyor, on my farm near Afton.

WANTS NO VIRUS IN HIS CHILDREN.

E. J. ADAMS APPEALS TO JUDGE BENNETT.

School Commissioners Say His Family Must Be Vaccinated, But He Declares That This Is Against the Principles of Faith-Healing—Question Is a Puzzling One.

Sheriff Bear served a writ of mandamus from Judge Bennett on Mayor Burdge and the members of the Beloit city school board directing the school board to admit the children of E. J. Adams to the public schools without a certificate of vaccination, as required by a recent order of the city health board. Mr. Adams is an ardent Christian Scientist and claims that the order for vaccination is a direct interference with his religious liberties as a citizen for Christian Scientists do not recognize such a thing as disease or the needs of the protective measure of vaccination, and cannot submit themselves to vaccination without sacrificing religious principles, contrary to the constitution of the United States which permits every man to worship according to his own desire.

Mr. Adams has had long talks with the school and local health officials about the matter, and while the members of the board appreciate the situation and can see that Mr. Adams has grounds for complaint, they do not know how to do otherwise than to maintain the rule, as they are only carrying out the edict of the state board of health, requiring children who attend the public schools to be vaccinated, hence the appeal of Mr. Adams to the court. Mayor Burdge and the school board are at sea to know how to act on the order. The school board simply put into force the order of the local health board, which directed the school board to carry out the orders of the state board of health. As the city health board and the school board are separate and distinct organizations, the question, "who is to waive the order of the state board of health if the order is to be modified?" is a good one for lawyers.

The case attracts wide spread attention as the state board of health is supposed to have supreme power in the matter of sanitary regulations.

LIVELY RUNAWAY AT SHOPIERE.

Charles Shimeal's Team Frightened at a Bon-Fire—Other News.

SHOPIERE, April 10.—Charles Shimeal had a lively runaway Thursday morning when coming to the factory with his milk. His colts got frightened at a bonfire, in the road, threw him out, broke the tongue and doubletree. No one hurt and no milk spilled. Mrs. Resigne entertained some friends and relatives from Chicago last week. A young man from Jefferson has rented rooms from Eve Fonda, and will do all kinds of work usually done in a shoemaker's shop. About twenty Woodmen from this place visited the Afton lodge on Friday night. About midnight, they started for home, and as the night was so dark that it was almost impossible to find the road, they were lost on the prairie between here and Afton. Should anyone find a stray Woodman they will please return him to Camp No. 1375 and receive a reward. Clover has been winter killed to some extent in this vicinity. Oats that were sown before the last cold spell have decayed and will have to be seeded over. Mrs. Frank Culver has had a brother from the military school near Milwaukee, visiting her the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Case and family were somewhat surprised Thursday night by a large number of their friends dropping in on them without letting them know anything about it. All enjoyed themselves hugely until midnight when they took their departure for home. Fred Rice's little boy who has been sick with diphtheria, is getting better.

MILTON JUNCTION GOSSIP.

Crisp Bunch of Items Covering the News of the Week.

MILTON JUNCTION, April 10.—The ladies of the Methodist church will hold a fair in P. of H. hall Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. Dinner twenty-five cents, supper fifteen cents, tickets to entertainment in the evening ten cents. Everybody is invited. Mrs. Sarah Grey seriously injured her hip by a fall last Thursday. W. D. Ticknor has rented the Larson house and will move in a few days. F. L. Hull put up an Areometer windmill for Lawrence Campion last Wednesday. Dr. Morton Wardner, of Chicago, is here to attend the funeral of his father, Rev. W. Wardner. The choir concert to be given at the S. D. B. church is postponed on account of the death of Rev. N. Warden. The masquerade social given by the Epworth League was a success socially and financially, having netted the League about fifteen dollars. A new barber shop and upholstery business has started up the past week. The proprietors, W. W. Bagles & B. B. Knowlton come well recommended. A. Raub is doing the carpenter work on a new house for Dennis Hayes, on Goldn Lane. Mrs. Ila Foote, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hull, returned to her home at Palmyra yesterday. Mrs. Charles Teeple and daughter and Mrs. Charles Fiske, all of Darien, were guests of Mrs. I. W. Babcock last week.

Fire at Clear Lake.

CLEAR LAKE, April 10.—Postmaster Morris' barn was burned Friday night

together with the contents. Henry Allen's horse was burned. Apparently no one saw the fire until the next morning. Officer Hogan was up in these parts Saturday on business. F. R. Morris lost a heifer Friday night. It was found dead and poison is the supposition. L. Williams is no better and Warren Thorpe is not so well. The Ladies' Aid society of Milton Junction, will hold a fair at the P. of H. hall next Wednesday and serve dinner and supper. Come everybody. Dinner twenty-five cents and lots of pretty things to buy. Quite a good many attended the masquerade social last Thursday evening at Milton Junction. The band boys of Milton Junction are talking of having a masquerade ball next Friday night and ask everyone to come and mask.

'NO GRAVEL TAX FOR MILTON.' Ezra Goodrich Says the Improvement Is Only Deferred For a Time.

EDITOR GAZETTE: We were amused to see the Milton correspondent of the Gazette, under the above caption, advertise his joy over defeating the tax for extending the graveled roads now reaching out in all directions from our thrifty little villages, on toward those rural homes of those whom alike with us have been taxed for these many years for building them. It seems the more strange inasmuch as he is a Milton business man. He is excusable for not being personally pleased with the "promoter" of the graveled roads of Milton, but it would seem a little selfish after taxing the whole town for year after year to gravel the roads in and around the villages, for the village folks to now turn around and go back on being taxed to extend them on toward our as much taxed but less benefited citizens. At least we wouldn't brag about it. We are gratified to see the land tax, as well as the gravel tax laid out more directly under the direction of our supervisors by road commissioners, rather than in the old way of pathmasters. Nine-tenths of the people of Milton are in favor of graveled roads, which are a joy and comfort to all who ride over them, and a mercy to the burden bearing beasts. But we were not surprised to see the extra tax for graveled roads lost by the small majority of twenty-two this year, just after the people of Milton have paid ten thousand dollars extra tax for alleged damages on our public highways (on wooden sidewalks), and while they are all paralyzed by the demonetizing of one-half of our money, whereby it requires two dollars' worth of farm products to bring the tax payer a dollar. The people of Milton are excusable for taking a year's rest on an extra gravel tax. The gravel won't rot, and the people in due time and in their own way, will continue to gravel the roads, long after the old "promoter" of graveled roads and his excusable critics are dead.

"ANCHORAGE" IS THE WORD.

Term Applied to the Need of Persons Not "Self-Centered."

There is a new word. It is anchorage. It is used to be self-centered; then there was a period in which intellectual young women ran around like nothing so much as little dogs after their tails, trying to find their poise. Now they search for anchorage. The term comes from Boston, where they tell you that Voltaire, Chateaubriand, Byron had no anchorage. The term is applicable to nations. France, they say has no anchorage. "Jimmie is always groping around after himself," said an anxious old lady. "You mean he has no anchorage," said the young woman from Boston. Shiftiness of character is being without anchorage. Believing you have the right end of the string, and hanging to it is anchorage.

BUGS MAKE LIGHTS BAD TO BE NEAR.

HOUSE OWNERS DON'T WANT ARCS TOO CLOSE.

Alderman Smith's Committee May Find One Hundred Lamps All He Can Place if the Protests on Location Are To Be Regarded—How People Talk.

The committee having in charge the placing of electric lights in different parts of the city is already receiving protests from house owners who object to the location of the lights near their premises. Alderman Smith may be able to verify his claim that one hundred lights will be plenty, after all. In case the protests are heeded it may be that the committee will be unable to locate even the one hundred lights. House owners who have watched the few lights heretofore in use, claim first that boys make the lighted corners very unpleasant for residents. Others say the lights will prove more a nuisance than a benefit especially in warm weather, as the strong light attracts millions of sand flies, and that house keepers will be both red with these pests as long as warm weather continues. No house in the vicinity of the lights can be opened in the evening, for fear of invasion by these pesky insects. The suburbs will suffer more from this source than the business center of the city, yet all, it is claimed, will experience more or less annoyance.

MAGAZINES OF THE MONTH.

The Quarterly Illustrator.

The Quarterly Illustrator has fulfilled the promise to make the number for April, May and June surpass that for the winter quarter in variety of matter as well as in the quantity and quality of its pictures. The uncommon success of five issues has only spurred its editor to greater exertions to make the sixth worthy of greater favors still. The magazine from cover to cover is filled with reproductions of original works never illustrated before, with pertinent comments thereon, and with brief, taking mention of their makers. Some of the brightest pens of the day have been enlisted in the cause of a new but thoughtful periodical for the millions. The comparisons between actresses in tableau vivant and the pictures they have copied are deeply interesting.

Short Stories For May.

The special feature of the May number of Short Stories is a bright sketch called "This Jack and the Other" by Edgar Fawcett, the well known novelist and writer of tales, and tells of an artist's love for a rich widow in New York society. Earle Tracy also contributes a clever study of Creole life and ways, and E. D. Pierson supplies a dramatic and picturesque Hungarian story. This readable number also contains interesting tales by L. B. Walford, Robert Barr, George Fleming, Wilhelmine von Hillern and others.

Current History.

Current History is now filling a niche that has never before been taken. A complete review of political, social and financial progress in condensed form, it comes at the end of each quarter to put the reader in touch with his fellows the world over. Garretson, Cox & Co. of Buffalo are the publishers.

In the district of Scotland under county police jurisdiction there is one drink license to every 415 of the population; in city and borough jurisdictions one license to every 304 of the inhabitants.

The strength of ice is well known to be very great. A thickness of only one and one-half inches will support a man's weight. Cavalry are safe on four inches; an 84-lb. cannon on six inches, and a railway train on eighteen inches thickness.

SAID BY SAGES.

Culture never made a saint.

A stingy man is never contented. Folks who hope are generally folks who help.

Nothing is heavier than trouble that is borrowed. Genius, may be swift, but perseverance has the surest feet.

To live long for what we can see proves that we are shortsighted.

There can be no true politeness without the practice of self-denial.

It is a great mistake to remember your trials and forget your blessings.

PRIZE PIANO HERE AND IT'S A BEAUTY.

GAZETTE INSTRUMENT ON EX-HIBITION AT LAST.

Musicians Who Have Tested It Say It Justifies All the Claims Made in Its Favor--Names of the Young Ladies
Who Have Received Votes Up to Date.

At last the Gazette's prize piano is here.
It arrived late Saturday afternoon and was at once unpacked and put in
S. C. Burnham & Co's show window.
Several local musicians tested it during the evening and said its tone was equal to anything that had been claimed for it.

Arrangements are being made for a fuller test some evening this week, the public being invited. Votes are coming in rapidly. New subscribers should be reported as fast as secured, but coupons should be tied in bundles of one hundred each and kept until the day the competition closes. Votes have been cast up to date, for the following candidates:

Baker, Bessie
Eldredge, Rose B.
Friak May
Foster, Lahlie
Gifford, Alice V.
Gibbs, Maria J.
Holt, Ellen
Kenyon, Cora
Kastner, Alice
Loucks, Franc
McNeil, Anna
Peters, Nellie
Names of other candidates will be added as fast as votes are received.
Only bona fide candidates will be allowed. The rule that nobody is permitted to enter merely to represent an organized society will be strictly enforced.

From now until the contest closes a coupon will be printed in each issue of the Gazette.

1. Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.
2. Cut the ballot out (trimming of-the dotted lines) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Bailot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.
3. Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

6. The lady who receives the largest number of votes will receive as good and beautiful a piano as the Shaw Piano Company can make.

7. The contest will close June 30, 1894. Piano will be delivered as soon as the counting of votes is completed.

8. Any person who will bring The Gazette one new subscriber paid in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one
month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six
month, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one over, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

We will be square with you, you must be square with us. No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

The polls will close at 9:00 p. m.,
June 30, but votes handed in before this will be duly credited. The contest will be conducted strictly "on the square." No partiality or unfair advantage will be taken or allowed in any case.

A Cry For Help

In the stillness of the night is sufficiently startling. What if no aid be at hand or we know whence the cry comes? This is not the case with that most appealing to the resources of medical science, ever ready, ever available by disease on every hand. A prompt means of self help for the mother, the rheumatic, the dyspeptic, the bilious, and persons troubled with impending kidney complaints, is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an ever present help in time of trouble for all such hapless individuals. They should not delay a moment in seeking its aid. Experience has shown its wide utility, the recommendation of eminent physicians everywhere, sanction its use. Nervous, thin, debilitated invalids gain bodily substance and vigor by a course of this fine invigorant which is eminently serviceable, also, to the aged and convalescent.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Reason Why.

Old Gruffleigh--That baby of yours,
madam, is like an angel.
Young Matron (pleased)--Do you really think so?

Old Gruffleigh--Yes. Is it not written that the angels "cry out and shout?"--N. Y. World.

All Right Usually.

Horrified Mother (entertaining guests)--Dottie! Dottie! Why are you yelling so like a wild Indian and slapping your little brother?

Dottie (glancing at the door)--Oh! I didn't know that company was here.-- Good News.

A Sensitive Applicant.

Mrs. Portly Pompous--It is a little strange that you are unwilling to show your references.

Servant--I hesitate out of consideration for those people who change their servants every week.--Texas Sittings.

A Pleasant Moment.

Beauze (at the soiree)--I wonder if that old lady over there isn't really trying to flirt with me.

Sedit (politely)--I can easily find out, sir, by asking. She's my wife.-- Chicago Record.

A Relief.

He--To-day I paid your father that ten dollars I borrowed from him over a year ago.

She--I'm so glad, George. Now I know you are marrying me for love.-- Truth.

The Surest Sign.

Polly--Am I beginning to look old?

Bessie--Of course not. Why?

Polly--Because my friends are beginning to say: "You are really looking younger every day."--Brooklyn Life.

Breaking All Records.

Milfred--Isn't Bessie a very original girl?

Maud--I should think so! Why, she said "Yes" to Jack in time he proposed to her.--Brooklyn Life.

A Measure of Self-Protection.

Bloobumper--Why does Dr. Kallowmell always carry a revolver now?

Spatts--He has vaccinated about fifty men in the last two weeks.-- Judge.

At the Bank.

"Is your cashier never in?" asked the irate depositor.

"No, sir, he's very much out--out about $40,000," responded the clerk.-- Halle.

Bobby's Wish.

I wish that bread were as sweet and nice
At the dinner table to me.
As it seems when I ask in vain for a slice
At a quarter-past two or three!--Puck.

His Only Course.

"Why did you kiss my daughter against her will?"

"She said I'd have to kiss her against her will or not at all."--Life.

The Blue Sky an Illusion.

If there was no dust haze above us the sky would be black. That is, we would be looking into the blackness of a limited space. When in fine, clear weather we have a deep, rich blue above us it is caused by a haze. The particles in the haze of the heavens correspond with those of the tube in the konoscope, and the blue color is caused by the light shining through a depth of fine haze.

The work an unknown good man has done is like a vein of water flowing hidden underground, secretly making the ground green.

Few men suspect how much mere talk fritters away spiritual energy-- that which should be spent in action spends itself in words.

Usefulness is confined to no station.
It is astonishing how much good may be done and what may be effected by limited means united with benevolence of heart and activity of mind.

The New Yorks have re-engaged the services of Amandus Brewster, the little mascot who has served for years in that capacity.

THE MOTHER'S WAIL.

A Small Girl Is as Trying as a Small Boy, It Seems.

They were in a Chicago street car and it was not long before all the passengers were listening to a tale of woe breathed into her friend's sympathetic ear by the woman in the fur-trimmed ulster.

"Everybody tells you: 'Wait till she walks and talks, and then she'll be a comfort to you.'" she was saying, "but for my part I'd almost rather she'd remain a baby. I never have any comfort any more. Sundays, when Ed is home, I do get a chance to draw a straight breath, but all the rest of the week she drives me nearly distracted. He finds that about the second hour of her company lacks the charm that the first had, and then I say: 'Well, what do you think of me? I have it this way all week.'"

"She gets on his knee and wants to ride a cock-horse to Banbury Cross, and he keeps that up until both legs are so tired that he cannot ride her any more. Then she says: 'Papa, git down.' She wants him to lie on the carpet. If he says 'No, papa's busy,' she comes to me, takes me by the hand and leads me to him to intercede with him. He gets down on the floor and she sits down on his chest and bounces up and down there till his ribs crack."

"Then she wants to see the 'pick-shers.' You never know how many pictures there are in a magazine till you have a young one about 2 years old. It is 'Wass sat?' all the time."

"Then she is always into something. You find the poker in bed and your spool of thread under the dressing-case. She gets the scissors and when you notice that she is very quiet, you find her in the parlor snipping the lace curtains."

"She has to have her walk out every day when it is at all pleasant, and just as she gets to the front door she says: 'Mamma, ca'y'."

"She's so heavy I can't carry her, and she won't ride in her carriage. If I make her walk she throws herself down on the ground and screams, and I simply can't make up my mind to take her across my lap and spank her in public. So I bought her a little red wagon to push so that she would walk along by herself. And that's as much bother as a whole circus caravan. She runs it off into the gutter or down somebody's arse way and falls down after it herself, and how she has missed cracking her skull I don't know."

"When she isn't falling down with it or upsetting it and calling, 'Mamma, flick a waggie,' she is mixing it up with the feet of somebody, getting it tangled up in some woman's skirts and shouting, 'Go 'way, lady,' or nearly upsetting some man in a hurry to catch a car."

"Ed never gets a chance to read the Sunday papers, and my only opportunity to read is after she goes to bed at night. I try to teach her to say her prayers."

"Now I lay me—"

"Now I vay me—"

"Down to sleep—"

"Down a shreep. Wass Margie goin'?"

"Margie's caying her prayers, like a good little girl. I pray the Lord—"

"Margie got her 'tockie off?"

"Yes, Margie's got her stockings off. I pray the Lord—"

"Dollie got her 'tockie off, too?"

"Yes, yes. I pray the Lord—"

"ay a Lor'. Dollie goin' shreep, too?"

"Yes, dear. Now if Margie isn't a good girl mamma'll have to spank."

"Pank Margie good? Pank dollie good?"

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep."

"Scul a keep."

"If I should die—"

"Ei-she-di. Mamma, dollie got 'tockie—"

"Before I wake—"

"Fo' wake. Mamma, dollie got a 'tock—"

"I pray the Lord—"

"Play a Lord, soul a take. Mamma, dollie got 'tockie off?"

"Yes, dear. Now kiss mamma."

mighty night and go to sleep like a good little girl."

"Then I've got to tell her a story and sing 'The Bowery' and 'Oh Where, Oh Where Is My Little Dog Gone?' and I must hold her hand. Pretty soon she drops asleep and the long day is over and I have a chance to see if I have forgotten what a printed page looks like. Mind you, I'm not through with her yet, for I've got to keep watch over her all night, for no human being can pin the covers on so securely about her that she won't kick them off."

And the other women sighed sympathetically."

VERY HEAVY TRAIN CAME TODAY

Had 1,890,000 Pounds of Coal and 4,050 Pounds of Tramps Abroad.

It took three engines to push, pull and drag a C. &amp; N. W. freight train that weighed 1,890,000 pounds into Janesville this morning. The train wasn't a long one, but besides twenty-seven tramps they had twenty-seven carloads of coal. The net weight of a "gondola" of coal averaged 46,000 pounds and the cars themselves averaged 23,000 pounds. This made the net weight of the train including the actual weight of the cars and coal, 1,890,000 pounds; one loaded box car 55,000 pounds; twenty-seven tramps, average weight one hundred and fifty pounds, 4,050 pounds; two brakemen and conductor one hundred and fifty pounds each, 450 pounds or 1,949,500 pounds in all. The train "stalled" in the yards below the "sand house" and the Janesville switch engine went down to help them out. Conductor Dower's passenger train was behind them and coupled onto the rear end. Then they all pulled and pushed together and the heavy train came in like a piece of paper in a thirty mile gale.

"There's the toughest lot of 'hoboes' that ever rode on a train," remarked the conductor as he checked up his bills at the freight house. "We couldn't do anything with them."

Yardmaster Griffin counted twenty-seven of them as they dropped off when the train got stuck.

THE OFFERINGS OF GRAIN.

Bad Roads Do Not Prevent Farmers From Selling.

Offerings of grain were fair during the past week, notwithstanding the unpropitious weather, and with the exception of wheat the market ruled firm at previous quotations. ## TELEPHONE TOLL LINES ALL DOWN

Beloit Was the Only Town We Could Talk To Yesterday

Telephone wires are in bad shape and the only town that Janesville could talk with yesterday was Beloit. The wire to the Line City was an extra large one or it too, would have gone down under the body of ice and sleet. The line to Jernstown was all down and Manager Willitz and Fred Milligan went out to fix it yesterday. From there they went to Whitewater to repair the line between the two cities. Lee Pierson went to Stoughton this morning on the same errand and had orders to walk from Stoughton to Edgerton and put up the line that connected these two towns. Both railroad companies had a good deal of trouble too, but their lines are now working fairly well.

NEWS ABOUT THE STATE.

THE Rev. Mr. White, of Beloit, declined the call to Berlin.

THE board of health has ordered the schools at Bloomer closed.

THERE are now 605 prisoners at Waupun—the largest number ever confined there.

THE Waterloo high school has been stricken from the state university's accredited list.

HENRY OBERG, a milk peddler, was assaulted and received a terrible beating at Racine.

EMORY HORKMAN, an Appleton boy, had his thumb amputated in order to save his hand, the result of a felon.

THE children in the Norwegian Protestant Orphan Home at Madison will be removed to their new quarters in the institution near Stoughton in a few days.

WILLIAM L. LEE, a Chinaman twenty years of age, has entered the Oshkosh Normal School to take a course of studies. It is his intention to become a teacher and start a school for Chinese children in Chicago.

THE city of Columbia has offered to move its stone crusher around to various quarters and make grout for the free use of districts that will co-operate to the extent of hauling the material and putting it upon roads.

THE controlling interest in the Oshkosh Street Railway Company has been sold to an Indianapolis syndicate for a private consideration. The sale is conditional upon the granting by the Common Council to the new company a franchise for an electric line. Representatives of another syndicate are also after a franchise.

COKE REGIONS QUIET.

Closed Plants Resume Operations—

Strikers Keep Out of Sight.

CONNELLVILLE, Pa., April 11.—The quietness which reigns at the coke works now is in striking contrast with the scenes of a week ago. The Frick and Rainey companies have resumed at all the plants which were closed by the strikers. The two Lemont works of the McClure company have not been fired up yet, but will be in a few days. The trouble expected at the Hill Farm did not take place last night. The company had 150 guards on duty and the men went to work with not a striker in sight. If the Scottsdale convention adopts the Frick scale to-day the whole aspect of the strike will be changed by uniting the Frick workers and the others for the attainment of the same object—a uniform scale of wages throughout the same region.

Against the State Bank Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The democratic caucus last evening adopted the following resolution without a dissenting vote:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that the prohibitory tax of 10 per cent on bank issues be repealed."

Exactly 102 democrats of the house were present, the attendance from the south and west being heavy, but only a few eastern men appeared. The only outspoken opponents of measure looking to repeal were Bryan of Nebraska and Lane and Williams of Illinois. The result means that the bill to repeal the state bank tax will be made a rider to the Brawley bill.

A RAIN OF TRAMPS KEPT POLICE BUSY.

ONE FREIGHT TRAIN BROUGHT 27 THIS MORNING.

Officer Hogan Rounds Up the Dirtiest Toughest and Ugliest Crew That Has Been Here in Years—Patrick
Lillis Claims He Was Held Up
Last Night.

A deluge of tramps were cast upon Janesville last night. There were fully fifty of them about town and it kept the hickory uniforms of the police whizzing through the air. Officer Hogan found nine of them asleep in the Northwestern round house and they kept him on the jump until two o'clock.

A Northwestern freight train that came in at ten o'clock this morning brought in twenty-seven tough citizens who intimidated the train crew and did pretty nearly as they pleased.
The train was made up of twenty-seven car loads of coal and one box car. The "hobos" were all in the box car and when the train "stalled" down under the "sand house" they all piled out and climbed onto the cars of coal. An old woman was out picking up pieces of coal and each "hobo" pushed off a piece for her. They all congregated in that vicinity and a telgining Wednesday afternoon, April 11, and continue through Thursday.

All are cordially invited.

BAD CHECKS GOT MILLER INTO JAIL.

BELOIT MAN ARRESTED ON A STATE'S PRISON CHARGE.

Bogus Paper to the Amount of $42.50
Was Issued by Him, and as He Can Give No Excuse for the Crime,
He Will Probably Plead Guilty to the Charge.

Henry Miller, of Beloit, is the latest boarder at Sheriff Bear's hotel and the city of Beloit, through its constabulary is responsible for it. Miller is accused of passing three forged checks aggregating in all $42.50. The victimized people became wroth at this and notified Marshal Appleby who arrested Miller and brought him to the Janesville jail, this morning. Miller is a queer looking man and gives no excuse for the forgeries. It is said that he will plead guilty. Marshal Appleby had a busy time last night.
The delegation of tramps that struck Janesville this morning came from the Line City and several had black eyes of the Appleby manufacture.

MRS. E. W. GODDEN'S SUDDEN DEATH Expired While Taking an Anesthetic For an Operation Today

Under particularly sad circumstances death entered the home of Edward W. Godden this morning and claimed his wife as a victim. Mrs.
Godden had been suffering from a complaint that made an operation necessary. Dr. Sutherland was her attending physician, and this morning was set for the operation. Before Mrs. Godden had become under the effects of the ether she ceased to breathe. Everything was done to resuscitate her but without avail; it was one of those mysterious cases that are often recorded in medical practice, where death came so suddenly, so silently, and so unexpectedly that no cause can be assigned therefor. Mrs. Godden leaves, beside her husband, two children to mourn her untimely death. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made,
but the remains will probably be sent to Monroe, her former home, for interment.

REED HAD TO BE SENT TO JAIL

The Jury Found Him Guilty of Assault and Battery Only.

Marshal Reed, who was tried on the charge for an assault on a two and one half year old Beloit girl was found guilty of simple assault and battery by the jury that tried him yesterday, and was not convicted of the offence as charged in the information. Had he been found guilty of the crime alleged, the penalty would have been not less than one, or more than ten years in states prison, but the maximum penalty for the offence that the jury convicted him of was a jail sentence, so Judge Phelps gave him six months. Many people thought that Reed was getting off too light but the jury decided it that way and nothing else could be done.

ROWDIES STONED THE HOTEL.

Pitcher Of Water Poured On Their Heads Made Them Wrathful.

A crowd of rowdies raised Ned on the Grand Hotel sidewalk, and an enraged boarder, who was awakened by their profanity and loud talk, poured a pitcher of water on them.
This caused the rowdies to stone the man's window and break the glass in a thousand pieces. Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan quelled the row and it is said that there is another chapter to be enacted yet.

MILLS IDLE FOR LACK OF COTTON

Shipment Intended for the Janesville Company Has Been Delayed

The Janesville cotton mills have shut down for a few days for the want of cotton. A large quantity of cotton is side tracked somewhere on the railways, and the mills will remain idle until this cotton arrives.

CORNER STONE LAID FRIDAY

Relics to be Put in the Box Must be on Hand Early.

The corner stone of the Y. M. C. A. building will be laid Friday afternoon.
Those having relics which are to be deposited in the corner stone must leave them with Secretary Kline before noon on Friday.

CHAT ABOUT JANESVILLE FOLK

LEVI NISH, of Elgin, was in Janesville yesterday, he coming up to see his mother, who was hurt by Henry Crane's horse running away.

THE Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church, will meet with Mrs. E. C. Roof, 160 Lincoln street, Thursday, April 12 at three o'clock.

E. B. HEIMSTREET returned from Racine last night, where he has been attending a meeting to arrange for the meeting of the state pharmaceutical society August 14 to 17.

DR. WILLARD MCCHESNEY, who has made his name known in his profession throughout Rock county has removed from Edgerton to Janesville and is now one of the staff physicians at the McChesney sanitarium.

MONTEREY BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED.

Considerable Work Necessary To Put it in Good Condition.

Monterey bridge will require considerable repairing this spring. Besides a coat of paint on the iron work, the roadway is out of repair, the heavy teaming cutting the planks in the center to such a depth that new planking is required. "I believe it would be much cheaper and better if the bridge was paved the same as Milwaukee street bridge," said Street Commissioner Hanthorn this morning.
"The present plank have been down hardly three years. I think the committee will agree with me and cut out the worn plank in the center, replacing with new plank. This will last two or three years, and I think it would be economy to put on an entire new deck and pave it with cedar blocks. Perhaps it would be economy to pave it at the present time. We are going up to the Mole culvert this afternoon to inspect that drain and see if any repairs are necessary."

STATE MEETING OF DRUGGISTS.

E. B. Heimstreet Making Arrangements
For Next Summer's Session.

E. B. Heimstreet has been in Racine arranging for the meeting of the state society which will be held there August 14-17. He said that several hundred druggists would be on hand from various parts of the state.
The three days session will be devoted to business and recreation. Tuesday two sessions will be held. In the evening a reception and entertainment will be tendered by the traveling men to the druggists. Wednesday evening a reception and ball to the visiting druggists. Thursday afternoon there will be games, etc., on the college grounds. Thursday evening there will be a ghost parade.

CIDER MADE THE BOYS REEL.

Term in Reform School Confronts Frank Smith and Will Kelly.

A term in the Waukesha reform school now confronts Frank Smith and Will Kelly, two Second ward boys. The lads have been caught in a number of mischievous acts of late.
Last evening they got at a barrel of cider with long straws, and before they were aware of the fact became so intoxicated that they were not responsible for their actions. They found lodgings at the jail and this morning Judge Phelps warned both that in case they were brought into court again they might be sent to Waukesha.

BRIEF NOTES ABOUT TOWN

John B. Waldo Cupid's Assistant.

John B. Waldo was "best man" at the wedding of his friend Albert P.
Chapman at Milwaukee yesterday.
The ceremony that made Miss Maud Dziwonski Mrs. Chapman, was performed at the Grand Avenue Congregational church at noon yesterday.
The Rev. Dr. Ide officiating. The groom is well known in Janesville as he has often been here as Mr. Waldo's guest.

Beneke Case Not Ended.

George Beneke has been on trial in the municipal court all day, on the charge of stealing chickens from John
A. Decker's hen house, and at 3:30 o'clock the testimony was not yet all in. M. P. Richardson and District Attorney Wheeler conducted the case, and E. F. Carpenter is defending the prisoner.

Granger Afraid of Bad Money.

A man from the rural districts refused to accept one of the new quarters in change at the St. Paul depot this morning. He had never seen one and thought that Ticket Agent Samuels had tried to palm off a Canadian coin on him.

Rise Was Good For Charlton.

George Charlton is one of the happiest men in the city today. "I have got one hundred head of cattle at the Chicago stock yards besides two car loads of hogs to be sold this morning, and the market has gone up booming," said he in explanation of his unusual activity.

Ernest Blum Sent to Waukesha.

Ernest Blum, the tough young man, who got $1.50 from Mrs. A. W.
Allison under false pretenses, was sentenced to the State Reform School by Judge Phelps this morning. Blum was but seventeen years old and therefore could not be sent to the penitentiary.

Mrs. R. M. Graham.

Mrs. R. M. Graham, sister of Mrs.
Alex. Graham, of Milton avenue, died yesterday in Milwaukee. The remains were brought to this city this morning by the 9:30 a. m. train for burial at Oak Hill. Funeral services will be held at Emerald Grove only.

Represent the Royal Arcanum

Regent Beaumont DeForest and Past Regent S. C. Buraham leave for Racine tomorrow morning, as delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum that is in session this week.

Mrs. Nish Is Resting Comfortably.

Mrs. Nish, who was so painfully injured in the Crane runaway, is resting as comfortably as could be expected but the doctor says she will be confined to her bed for two months.

Scott Owns His Drug Store.

In E. B. Heimstreet's trade monthly for April appears a portrait of Walter R. Scott, formerly of this city, but now proprietor of a thriving drug store in Eau Claire.

Fathers Takes Office Next Week.

Treasurer-elect James A. Fathers is planning to hold a reception in the city treasurer's office on Tuesday next.

Funeral To Be Held In Edgerton.

The remains of Mrs. H. S. Swift passed through the city this morning en route for Edgerton, for burial.

For the First Time in Years the City
Elects Republican Officials—Good Old Democratic Times Are Thoroughly Appreciated—Texas May Go for Prohibition Next.

You can't tell what is liable to happen in these good, old democratic times. People are so enthusiastic over the prosperity they are enjoying that it's hard to tell what they will do next. For instance, Jefferson always used to give big democratic majorities when republicans were in power. They had a city election yesterday, however, and the entire republican ticket was elected. It is the first time a republican treasurer has been elected in years. Oh, people appreciate democracy!

THE SHAH OF PERSIA IS TO COME WEST

WILL SOON MAKE ANOTHER TOUR OF EUROPE.

The Courts of Christendom Stand Aghast at His Proposed Visit and Wonder if He Will Do as He Did Before—His Numerous Seeghays.

NCE MORE THE Shah of Persia threatens an invasion of Europe, and in turn Europe is aghast at the fact. Not because there is any real danger to result from such invasion—for the time when the monarchs of Persia were fierce leaders of warlike hosts and the world trembled at their coming for fear of conquest, rapine, bloodshed and horrors, lie happily in the past—but because his majesty of Teheran is such a queer man.

The courts where he was a guest before, those of Paris, London, Berlin

ZEBE KHANOU, SHAH'S FAVORITE, and Vienna, as well as those of St. Petersburg, are still redolent with reminiscences of his stay. The outrageous things he and his retinue have said and done during their former visits have become part of the contemporaneous chronicle scandaleuse, and some of them were of such a nature that courtiers even to-day refer to them only with bated breath.

The women of his suite did things equally startling. But they were serene through it all.

The standard of morality, as a German philosopher once said, is a matter of latitude and longitude. The shah can not be measured by the same measure applied to John Smith of Chicago or New York. Taught and brought up to be an Oriental despot—i. e., an irresponsible being, a sort of demi-god, injured to the grossest sensuality since boyhood, and the scion of a race of rulers—the so-called Kadjar dynasty, that have always been cruel and treacherous—the wonder is not that he has done many things in life which we of western morality would deem reprehensible, but that he has not done far worse, as his father, his grandfather and his ancestors have done before him.

The Oriental—at least the Moslem—has no conception of the meaning we give to our words "love," "affection." The Persian "ishk" means simply sensual gratification, nothing more. The shah, therefore has always looked upon his undermen, filled with his wives, seeghays, slaves and female attendants, solely as an institution existing for anything but family affection.

A husband he has never been to any one of the large flock of females that have been harbored under his roof, but he has at least been a good natured master. The story is current in Teheran how he once detected proof of a young seeghay's infidelity, and how he not only refrained from ordering her and her paramour to instant execution, but actually divorced the woman and gave her to the man, together with a large dowry and an easy job for the husband.

Indulgent to the inmates of his undermen, he is affectionate and generous to his numerous offspring and to those of his blood relations to whom he has taken a liking. For one of his

ONE OF THE SHAH'S SEEGHAYS. Little daughters by a low-born seeghay, a very handsome child, he has made a picture book composed of drawings and funny caricatures of his own invention.

PHARAOH'S DAUGHTER AND MOSES.

When Pharaoh's daughter
Went down to the water
Shore there was young Moses a-swimming around.
And a stick of sweet candy
To keep him from crying until he was found.
Saw she to a maiden:
"Bring her the young haythen.
Your trotters be shakin' ye lazy colleen.
If the water once wets him,
Or the alligators gets him,
It's no crocodile's tears you'll be sheddin', I ween."

So when from his swimmin'
He was brought to the winamin,
Faith it shows how the blarney's a female's chief joy.
A nate bow he was makin',
Just as shure as I'm spakin',
"Begorra," says she, "he's the broth of a boy."

I SMELL SMOKE.

Mr. Snoodle is an inveterate smoker and has a most reprehensible habit of smoking in bed, but Mrs. Snoodle, though she allows him to smoke anywhere else, very properly forbids him to indulge in such a dangerous practice. However, as Mrs. Snoodle is a remarkably sound sleeper Mr. Snoodle frequently manages to enjoy a few stolen whiffs.

One night when in bed Mr. Snoodle had an irresistible desire for a pipe, which he in vain endeavored to combat. His wife was fast asleep, so he cautiously stretched out his hand for his pipe, which lay on a little table by the bedside. Then with equal caution he filled it, lighted up and was puffing away with intense relish when Mrs. Snoodle turned over and gave two or three snorts.

"I believe she's going to wake up," thought Mr. Snoodle and hastily took his pipe from his mouth and placed it on the table.

Mrs. Snoodle gave a few more snorts and woke up. Then she gave a series of sniffs, and Mr. Snoodle trembled, for the room was pregnant with tobacco smoke.

"John, are you smoking?" asked his wife sternly.

"Certainly not, my dear. Whatever makes you think so?" he innocently inquired.

"Because I can smell tobacco," she replied. "Phew, how strong it is! Don't you smell it, John?"

"Can't say I do, Martha. I've got a bit of a cold."

"Open your eyes, man, and then you will," snapped Mrs. Snoodle.

"I don't smell with my eyes," giggled Mr. Snoodle.

"What I mean is wake up properly and sniff hard. Now, can't you smell it?"

"Well—er—I think there is a faint odor of tobacco," admitted the culprit.

"Think—faint odor! Why, the place reeks with it! I tell you what it is, John, there's somebody smoking in the house," declared his wife.

"Do you think Jane indulges in a pipe on the sly?" suggested Mr. Snoodle.

"Nonsense!"

"Well, my dear, the only other living thing in the house is the cat, and I never heard of cats smoking."

"Don't talk rubbish, John. It's a serious matter. It's my firm belief there's a burglar smoking in the house." And Mrs. Snoodle shivered.

"Ah, very likely," replied Mr. Snoodle, thankful for his lucky escape and preparing to go to sleep again.

"John, are you going to sleep and let the house be ransacked?" asked his wife indignantly.

"Certainly not, my dear."

"Then why don't you go down stairs and catch the burglar?"

Mr. Snoodle very reluctantly got out of the warm bed into the cold air, sleepily lighted a candle and moved toward the door.

"Aren't you going to take some weapon of defense?" asked his wife. "Do you want to be killed? I never saw such a man!"

Mr. Snoodle rather sulkily seized the poker and muttered that "if he found a burglar he'd make it smoking hot for him."

He had got half way down stairs and was thinking of anything but burglars when he suddenly saw a man dart out of the dining room and bolt down the kitchen stairs. Mr. Snoodle's first impulse was instant flight, for he was an arrant coward, but he was so astounded and petrified with fear that he was utterly unable to either move or speak. He simply stood still, holding the candle nearly upside down, with his mouth wide open. Then he heard the back door bang and knew that the burglar was gone, so thought it was about time for action and to earn a little cheap glory.

So he roared out: "You villains! I'll murder you! I'll scalp you as clean as a whistle!" and rushed down stairs. He had never before felt so heroic in his life. He bounded into the dining room and fought fiercely with the furniture, especially the fender, as he could bang into that without injuring it much until he was quite exhausted.

"John, John, come up stairs!" screamed Mrs. Snoodle. "You'll be killed!"

"It's all right, Martha!" shouted back Mr. Snoodle.

"Have you got the rascals safely bound then?"

"No, they've got away. But I've nearly killed 'em!"

"Thank heaven! Come up stairs and let me dress your wounds, dear," said Mrs. Snoodle solicitously.

Mr. Snoodle, after securing the back door, which the servant had omitted to lock, and undoing the bundle of plate that the burglar had left behind in his hurry to escape, went up stairs.

"Oh, John," exclaimed Mrs. Snoodle on beholding him, "then you're not dead?"

"No, dear," he said, mopping his brow. "But it was a terrible fight."

"I'm sure it was. I never heard such an awful row. Did they take anything?"

"Only their hook," grinned Mr. Snoodle. "I was just in time to prevent 'em carrying off the best part of our plate. It was all tied up ready. That idiot of a Jane forgot to lock the back door. I'll give it to her in the morning!"

"The silly girl! How many burglars were there, John?"

"Two. One great fellow over 6 feet, and another bigger, if anything, but I caught one a crack on the head that must have pretty well smashed it, and I'm sure I've broken the other one's leg," declared the mendacious Mr. Snoodle.

"Then I wonder he could run away," remarked his wife.

"He doesn't run with his arms, Martha."

"No, but you said you'd broken his leg, John."

"Oh, I meant arm."

"I suppose the place is covered with blood?" queried Mrs. Snoodle.

"No, they took that away with 'em—I mean they ran away so quickly that I don't think it had time to drop."

"I'm glad of that. I hope you haven't got any internal injuries, John?" asked Mrs. Snoodle anxiously.

"Well, dear," he laughed, "I have a strange empty feeling about the stomach, but I dare say a little whisky and water will put that all right."

"John," exclaimed his wife, gazing at him admiringly, "I never felt so proud of you as I do at this moment. Fancy you tackling two great burglars and putting them to flight without getting a scratch yourself! I always thought you were rather a coward. Forgive me, darling, for having thought so, for now I know you are the bravest of the brave!"

"I don't know about that, Martha, but I think I have my share of courage," said Mr. Snoodle modestly.

"You're a perfect hero!" exclaimed Mrs. Snoodle enthusiastically. "Would you not like a pipe, dearest? You haven't had a smoke since supper time, and I'm sure you deserve one after your terrible exertions. As you know, John, I never object to your smoking anywhere, except in bed. That I will not allow."

"Quite right, Martha. There's no telling what such a practice might lead to," remarked Mr. Snoodle thoughtfully, lighting his pipe.

"Fancy, John," said Mrs. Snoodle, "fancy me smelling those burglars smoking! What impudence they've got! However, if I hadn't smelled the smoke, we shouldn't have discovered the burglars. So we may say our property was saved by a pipe, may we not?"

"We may indeed, Martha," replied Mr. Snoodle, and he meant it.—London Tit-Bits.

Gold Digging.

Perhaps it was not an old "forty-niner" who gave the following description, but it was a man who knew the work in question. Like most enthusiasts, however, he underestimates the trial and disappointment involved:

It's the prettiest work I ever did. It's the fascination of it, when you've struck it pretty rich and see your gold right in front of you, when you're piling it up every half hour of the day, with a nugget now and again as big as a bullet to cheer you.

And then when the evening comes and you count it up and find it a hundred odd dollars just picked out of the earth that day—well, there's nothing like it!

Then when you don't strike it you always think you're going to next day, and it's just as exciting hearing other men tell in the evening what they've pulled out as it is counting over your own. Why, I've been three or four months at a time without making a dollar and without a cent in my pocket; but, gee whittaker, the excitement of it don't give a man time to think how hard up he is!—Youth's Companion.

A Creed of Love.

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of your love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak approving, cheering words while their hearts can hear them and while their hearts can be thrilled and made happier by them. The kind things you mean to say when they are gone say before they go. The flowers you mean to send for their coffins send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours and open them, that I may be refreshed and cheered by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without a flower, a funeral without a eulogy, than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to anoint our friends before-hand for their burial. Post mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way.—George W. Childs.

The Designing Woman.

It is true that we read a good deal about "the designing woman" in novels written by ladies. It gives them pleasure to describe these dexterous and wily creatures doing such mischief among the other sex. Mothers, too, believe that their pure and innocent sons are always in danger from these unprincipled young persons. And yet the fact is that at 27 none of them can hold a candle for evil intention to any ordinary youth of 17. The hypocrisy with which their own ends men affect to fall in with the female view of flirtation and "the designing woman" is contemptible. Even the most impudent of them seldom venture to adopt it among themselves. The tongue in their cheek is too obvious.—James Payn in London Illustrated News.

G.A.R. NOTICE

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, or their widows, children, or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address:

MARY ELLEN LEASE BEATS THE WORLD.

SHE IS A MARVEL IN HER OWN WAY.

Flery, Brilliant and Determined She is Complete Mistress of a New Set of Theories—How She Became a Politician.

THE STORY OF Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease's advent into politics is interesting. With her husband and children she lived on a claim in Kingman county, Kan. One day she was in Wichita and leisurely strolled into a union labor convention. She was requested to make a speech. She had never before attempted to speak in public, but the calls were so frequent and earnest that she resolved to try. For half an hour she surprised herself, as well as her audience, making a speech that fairly started her on the road to fame and fortune.

Soon after this the Lease family removed to Wichita, where the husband became a drug clerk, and from the modest salary he received in that capacity supported his family, which consisted of his wife and four children. Through the influence of his wife he was subsequently made manager of a leading Wichita drug store, but the proprietors having disposed of the business he was thrown out of employment, since which time he has been a gentleman of leisure.

MARY ELLEN LEASE.

About a year ago Mrs. Lease purchased a handsome home in a fashionable residence part of the city and turned it over to the management of her husband. Two elderly female servants are employed, who are paid by Mrs. Lease, but Mr. Lease has entire control of the establishment during his wife's absence, which is maintained in the best possible style. Since he lost his position Mr. Lease has looked after the minor details of caring for his wife's property and the children, while Mrs. Lease has been traveling about the country delivering lectures, making political speeches and acting as a member of the State board of charities.

About a year ago Mrs. Lease became interested in the subject of hypnotism. She made a study of the science, her ambition being to acquire hypnotic power. With this object in view she engaged the services of a professor who has been giving exhibitions through state. He pronounced her a good subject, and claims to have developed unusual hypnotic power in his pupil. Mrs. Lease dislikes to talk of her hypnotic powers, but admits that she has given the subject of hypnotism much study and thought.

People in Kansas have ceased to wonder at anything Mrs. Lease says or does. Her political career has been a series of sensations. She is constantly in search of something to do or say that will attract attention to her. She first came into prominence in the campaign of 1890, when her speeches, pregnant with bitter invective and sarcasm, caused many to compare her methods with those of Senator Ingalls whom she took great satisfaction in abusing.

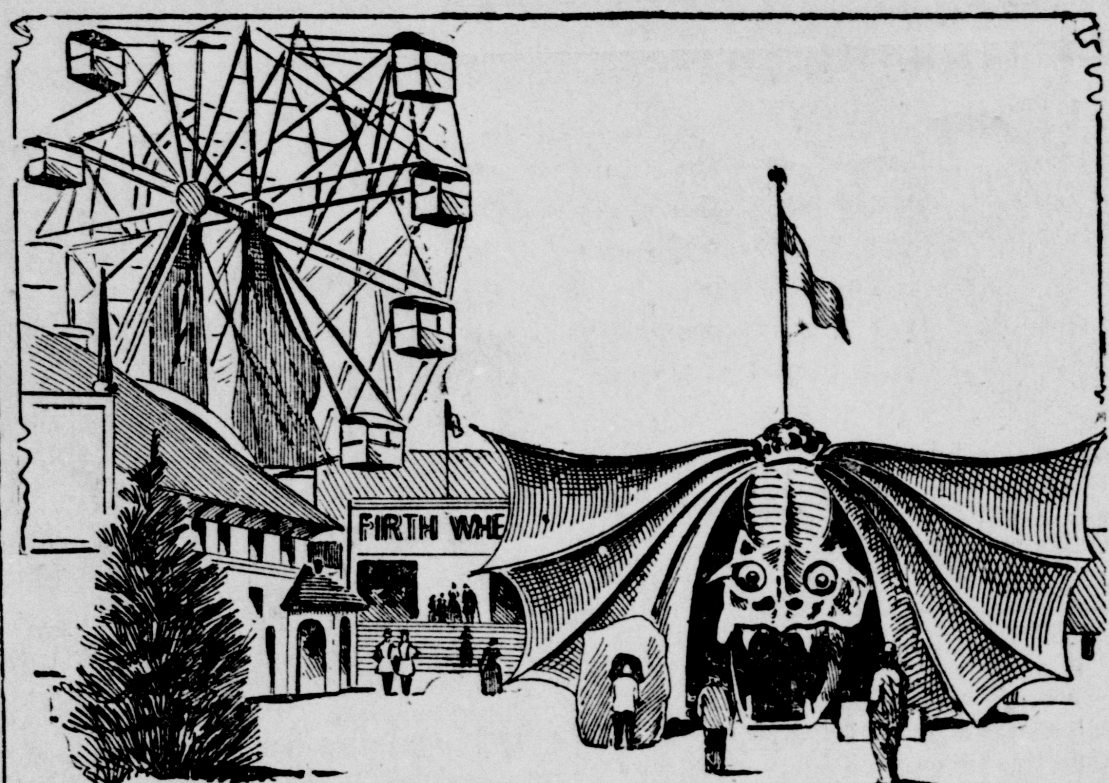

Her success as a speaker consisted more in arousing the enthusiasm of her partisans than in making converts. Up to and including the campaign of 1892 she was the idol of her party, and was called by people's party papers the modern Joan of Arc. Her influence in party councils was greater than that of any other half dozen persons.

Few men leaders had the temerity to cross her path, and her wishes always commanded respect, at least in her presence, for no one wished to invite the sting of her sharp tongue by opposing. A few tried it while she was in the height of her popularity with disastrous results. Her success turned her head, and she began to use her power in such a bold manner that friends deserted her and enemies sprang up on all sides, determined to crush her.

Gov. Leveiling opened the battle by attempting to remove her from the state board of charities, to which he had appointed her. She fought back, appealed to the Supreme court and came out of the fray victorious.

Mrs. Lease delights to talk of herself and her achievements. She says that if she were a man she would easily be the acknowledged intellectual giant of the people's party. In an interview, in speaking of her oratorical ability, she said: "I believe I owe whatever power I have in this line to my paternal influence."

"My father was an Irish exile. He was banished from Ireland and he fled to America, with a price set upon his head and his property confiscated to the English crown. I was the first child born from my exiled parents in America. My earliest recollections are filled with a struggle against every form of injustice that came in my little world. I was liberally educated and finished at Allegheny university, and when 15 years of age left school. The poor wages paid women aroused me, and when I began teaching, scarcely more than a child, I rebelled against this and started a movement in northern Pennsylvania and southern New York for better wages for women teachers.

"Hearing that women were paid better in the west, I came to Neosho county, Kan., when I was 17 years old, and taught at Osage Mission, where I met Mr. Lease and afterward married him. A few years later Mr. Lease got an idea that we would do better on a farm, so we moved away out west to Kingman county and took up a claim. I lived in the very midst of the desert. It was solitary and desolate, and there was no society but our children and no companions but our lonely thoughts. It was an awful life, dreary, monotonous, hard, bleak and uninspiring."

On the question of religion Mrs. Lease expressed herself as follows: "I think my religion is as broad as my political creed, for they are one and the same. I was reared in the Roman Catholic church and I have at various times worshipped at other altars, but I am only a member of the great big church—the church without catechism, the church with no creed. I hate man-made belief and priest-made orthodoxy. I take the sermon on the mount and the golden rule and believe in them, that they are sufficient—sufficient unto salvation."

CONGRESS HALL TABLET.

To Commemorate the Meeting of Congress in Baltimore.

The Maryland society, Sons of the American Revolution, celebrated Washington's birthday in Baltimore by unveiling the handsome bronze tablet which had been erected upon the site formerly occupied by old Congress hall.

The design represents the old Congress hall in relief, with the inscription below.

On the rounding sides are the names of the thirteen original states, separated by as many stars, six on one side and seven on the other.

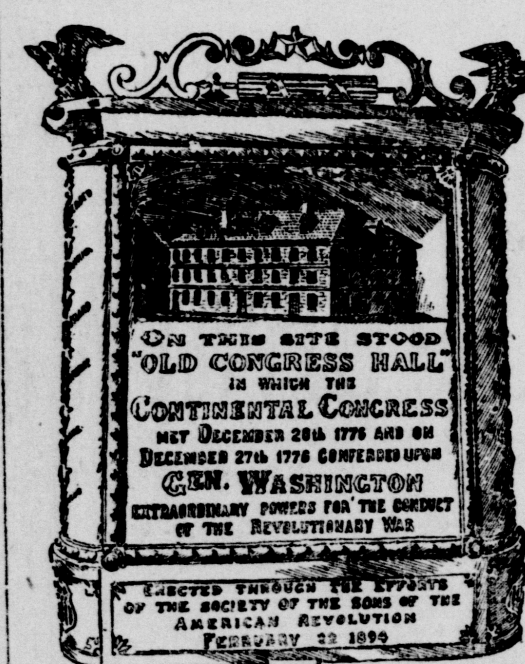

Its dimensions are 5 by 4 feet, and it weighs 350 pounds.

The society determined to mark this historic spot with a suitable memorial, and thus to confer upon the community an object lesson which should stimulate investigation, and be the means of bringing to the thoughts of busy men some realization of the benefits conferred upon them by the founders of the republic. Situated in the very heart of the wholesale trade district, it can not fail to attract attention and instruct the people.

The British arms had been victorious at Long Island, and the American army was in retreat. Already the enemy were encamped on the banks of the Delaware.

Philadelphia was considered unsafe, and congress hastily adjourned to meet in Baltimore. Upon reassembling here, in "Congress hall," they deliberated a week, and then conferred upon Washington powers which practically made him dictator. They remained in Baltimore until the last of the following February, when they returned to Philadelphia.

The "tavern" in which the sessions were held was owned by Jacob Fite, who patriotically tendered his best apartments to the cause he loved. The old building remained intact for nearly a century, being used for stores on the first floor, and as a boarding-house above.

The march of improvements has finally obliterated all trace of this famous house, and the site is now covered by massive warehouses.

SOME FISH.

They Came Piling in so Fast That They Nearly Sank the Sloop.

"It is well worth a trip to the North Carolina coast," said Colonel Keogh, of that state, "to see the operations of one of the big seines in the waters along Albemarle or Pamlico sounds. Some of these big nets are fully two miles long, and so heavy that they are drawn ashore by steam power. And what enormous takes are frequently made—barrels of herring at a single haul! Yet I don't know of but one man who has made much money in the business. The very abundance of the fish makes them cheap, and railroad facilities in that section are limited."

"Abundant as the finny tribe is in the North Carolina waters," said Colonel Walter B. Evans, of Florida, who had been listening to Colonel Keogh, "it is not till you get down into my country that you find fish in multitudinous quantities, so to speak. In the Indian river, particularly, they are far too thick for the fisherman, and often embarrass him with their redundancy."

"I shall never forget one experience I had down there. It was a dark night and a party of us were on the river in a good-sized sloop after big fish. We had not been long anchored when the light in our boat began to attract schools of mullet, and into that craft they jumped by the hundreds. Yes, thousands. Well, we stood it for awhile, till the burden got too heavy, and we felt the boat beginning to sink. Then hurriedly blowing out the lights and pulling anchor we made for the shore. I am positive if we had let these fish keep on piling into us they would have carried all hands down to a watery grave. As it was we made a narrow escape."

VACCINATION AND PRAYER.

A Little Tot Who Had Full Faith in a Combination of the Two.

Here is a little story, the incident occurring during a period when the town of Winsted, Conn., had a small-pox scare. It happened when things were at the worst, and it occurred in the household of Benjamin Richards. Mr. Richards has a little daughter, and she took it to heart quite forcibly because the churches were all closed, and so she dressed herself in some of her mother's clothes one Sunday morning, and perching herself upon the stairs, proceeded to hold church services. The little tot was choir and soprano and preacher all in one. After calling upon Mrs. Howe to sing a hymn she personated a well-known vocalist and sang and then she did a little preaching and then made a prayer. The prayer was short and was as follows:

"O, Lord, make the small-pox go away. Don't let the small-pox get my papa or my mamma nor me nor any of us. O, Lord, we've all been vaccinated and it's working b-a-a-u-t-i-f-u-lly on all of us. Amen."

We are pleased to state that the prayer was answered and that the little tot and all of her family came through the ordeal in good order.

A WARM SEAT.

The Young Lady Was Hot, While Every One Else Was Cool.

In a party of strangers being taken through the Chollar workings, near Virginia, Nevada, was a girl who, when preparations were made to go down the incline, was assigned to the lower seat in the "giraffe." After the giraffe started the girl slipped down at the feet of her companions and found a seat on something, the nature of which she did not stop to investigate. A short way down the incline, she remarked that it was getting warm. Further on she repeated the observation, and her companions remarked that they had not noticed it, while the miner who had the party in charge assured her that the incline was supposed to be cool. She continued to call attention to the heat, however, and at the station she scrambled out of the giraffe, exclaiming: "Whew! but it was hot in there!" The miner was mystified, but casually looking at where she had sat, the light dawned upon him, and he electrified the entire party by dryly remarking: "It's no wonder you were warm; you were sitting on that gentleman's lantern."

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

I think Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt so well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week. J. A. Alcorn, Ag't U. P. R'y. Co., Eaton, Colo.

Took a Sitting Hen With Her.

An Atlanta paper is credited with having originated this story: "An old lady, living in Jackson county, who was possessed of a sitting hen, just hatching at the time, when she had occasion to go to Jefferson on urgent business, and having no one to leave in charge at home, put the pipped eggs and hen in a box of hay and took them along with her on the train. Before she reached her destination the eggs all hatched, and she returned home next day with a fine brood of young chickens, which may boast of the distinction of having been hatched on a passenger train running at full speed."

A Birth and Death Coincidence.

John Sobieski, the king of Poland, who immortalized his name by "delivering Vienna from the Turks," was born June 17, 1629, and died on June 17, 1686, being exactly 67 years old. There are two other queer coincidences in connection with Sobieski's life: He was elected to the throne on June 17, and there were terrible tempests all over Europe on the day of his birth and also on the day of his death.

With a Single Bullet.

Three rabbits were recently killed with one bullet. The first rabbit, fifty yards away, was shot with a 300-bore Martini rifle through the shoulder; the second, about two yards further, through the neck; and the third, about three yards from the second, through the head. Two were full-grown, and the third nearly so.

It will astonish you how quick Johnson's Magic Oil will kill all pain. Sold at Smith's pharmacy; 25 and 50 cents.

Never Cross-Examine a Woman.

Butterworth's cross-examination of Miss Pollard reminds one of the dying advice of Rufus Choate to a young lawyer. He said: "Never cross-examine a woman. It is of no use. They can not disintegrate the story they have once told; they can not eliminate the part that is for you from what is against you. They can neither combine, nor shade, nor qualify. They go for the whole thing, and the moment you begin to cross-examine one of them, instead of being bitten by a single rattlesnake, you are bitten by a whole barrelful. I never, except in a case absolutely desperate, dared to cross-examine a woman."

Ran a Whistle Down His Throat.

Pascal Foster, a young lad, heir to one of the finest estates in Montgomery county, Ind., fell from a high fence with an alder sprout whistle over a foot long in his mouth. He fell upon his throat, literally running it down his throat, lacerating it terribly. He died of his injuries in a few hours, having suffered terrible agony.

Frozen While in Prayer.

The corpse of James Hess, an aged citizen of Friedensburg, Pa., was found in the road near the village. He was in a kneeling posture, and it is supposed that, overcome by cold, he knelt in prayer. He was only half a mile from home.

SAVED TWO WOMEN,

THOUGH MANY MILES APART.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Many curious and interesting experiences are found in the correspondence of a womanlike Mrs. Pinkham, who for many years ministered to the sufferings of her sex all over the land. Here are two notable cases, one from the Pacific and the other from the Atlantic coast.

The Brooklyn woman is Mrs. Lillie Meyer. Five years ago she began to feel sharp pains in her abdomen, with the bearing-down feeling and pains in her back. She tried doctors and got no relief. A friend told her of Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and after using it the pain left her, and menstruation now comes without suffering.

The Riverside, Cal., woman is Mrs. J. E. Dewey, who says, "I have used three bottles of your Vegetable Compound for painful menstruations."

"Every month my suffering was terrible, and I was obliged to go to bed."

"After using the first bottle, my general health was much improved, and now, after using three bottles, all pain has left me, and I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is as unfailing as the sun." Get it from your druggist.

Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using VIGORINE. VIGORINE is guaranteed to cure Nervousness, Lost Vigor, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Headaches, and all kinds of debility or weakness. It is a powerful tonic, and a greater profit. Insist on having VIGORINE, or get it for it. Can be carried in vest pocket. Prepared in plain wrapper, $1.00 per package, or six packages, $5.00, with a Positive Written Guarantee to Cure or Refund the Money. Circular free. Sold by all local druggists. ## A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. Feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130 lbs. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians." Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1893.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.
